AI agents that learn.

The memory & experience layer for AI agents — one causal-memory core, many domains.

BUSINESS MODEL

Sector	AI infrastructure · Engineering
Clients	EPC contractors · dev & audit teams
Revenue	SaaS seats + per-project licences
Delivery	Cloud · on-premise

WHAT WE DO

Every AI agent today forgets. Membria is the layer that remembers why a decision was made — and what happened next.
One causal-memory core plugs into Claude Code, Codex and Cursor through MCP, and ships as vertical products for engineering (EPC), software teams and audit.

PROBLEM

- Agents are stateless — every session starts from zero, yesterday's reasoning is discarded.
- In engineering, 28% of budget overruns are caused by rework; 30–50% of assumptions vanish at every handover.
- A senior engineer leaves and fifteen years of judgment leaves with them.

SOLUTION

- Causal memory — Decision · Outcome · NegativeKnowledge · Skill in one graph.
- Verification — five discipline critics check every P&ID against standards before sign-off.
- One command to connect — npx @membria/cli init, no integration project.

TRACTION & MOAT

100+
seats in production · 1 bank + 1 government live, EPC pilots running

20,000+
engineering standards processed — ISO · IEC · API · ASME · ГОСТ · DNV

2.5M+
machine-extracted rules: 1.2M prohibitions + 1.3M best practices

96.5K production repos mined — ~570K Skills & AntiPatterns live

WHERE THIS GOES

BY END OF 2026
€500K
first EPC contracts · CE & EPC SaaS live

2027
€2M
Glass audit beta · ISO 27001 / SOC 2

2028
€6M
open memory-plane API · any agent, any vendor
